Queen Sheba Adwa, a school which produced so many high caliber professionals and leaders in the past many decades is rising once again, determined to produce students that meet the challenges of the 21st century!!

Once a premiere of excellence and quality education, Queen Sheba has now aged. The Building is worn out and overcrowded. What used to host 2000 students now accommodates over 4000 in the morning and 4000 in the afternoon, a total of 8000 students, without any additional facility. It is lacking the very basic minimum of facilities. There is a shortage of laboratories, library, and students have no extracurricular activity. The sports facility, which used to be the hallmark of the school, is now aged and crying for repair.

When there were few secondary school opportunities in Ethiopia, Queen Sheba was a beacon of hope for many. All those who have benefited from the school, have the responsibility of rebuilding it. Let us rise to the occasion and accept this historic responsibility. Opportunities have slipped and time has passed. We may look back and complain but what will that solve? Rather than pointing fingers and blaming others, let us pause and ask ourselves: what have I done for the school? How can I contribute to raise the school to a new level? Action when it is needed and asked for is the only way to change this situation. Let us change the school and elevate ourselves to higher standards of social responsibility and philanthropy.

Education is at the heart of human progress. Economic and social prosperity depends on the ability of a nation to educate its youth and prepare them to face the rapidly changing world. By supporting Queen Sheba School and creating an atmosphere of the excellence in Education will prepare the next generation to thrive in the rapidly changing world. Education is not only a basic human right, but also the only proven path to the future. It is the most important human resource development that can bring social and economic changes.

None of us got to where we are solely by our own effort. We got here because someone.....

– A parent, a teacher, a mentor, some role model stepped forward and helped us to be a better human being. They saw the best in us and nurtured it so we can reach our goal. So what does it take for us to help the poor kids struggling in this school so they can change their lives and the fate of the country? Let us put our hands, minds, and resource together and equip and enable the coming generation to succeed in the 21st century with skills, information technology, and confidence. If we can do this for these kids, they will change themselves and also that of their society’s progress forever!

Queen Sheba International Alumni and Queen Sheba Alumni Ethiopia are preparing to celebrate the 70th anniversary of Queen Sheba Adwa. This will be a time of hope, recovery, promise, and of laying future foundation for the next generation. You are all invited to join us in the celebrations.

The motto of this anniversary is simple: to rebuild the school and improve its capacity, to generate momentum and propel the school to its highest level that will produce responsible and successful citizens.

Well, the time has come and the time is now!! Let us ask ourselves what we can do individually! We can and we must. Together, we can move mountains!!

Would you help?
